

New Rock Band Game update and Highway Star!

The recently released video game "Rock Band" includes the song "Highway Star" by Deep Purple. It's on the fourth level and it's the original version, and it's also the intro song for the game.

"The master recording of this song is playable in Rock Band, as well as it appears in a recent promo video for the game (where the band performs the master track while driving through a road in the middle of the desert, atop a car, a truck and, ultimately, a bus), which is also the game's introduction video. Many consider it to be the game's anthem."-
